Not illustrated. 1872 Excerpt: ...only that a little sea sand or salt should be mixed with the soil. For a succession of bloom, plant from September until March. Those planted in September will flower in latter part of March or the first of April, while those planted in March will flower by the middle of June. We list the following from many we have bloomed, and should recommend them for pot culture. Feu Surperbe, bright scarlet. Rose Surpassante, rose. Queen of the Netherlands, white and rose, fine. It'Ornament de la Nature, rich dark blue. Lord Nelson, violet.' Queen Victoria, bright scarlet, a free bloomer. Rembrandt, carmine. Shakspeare, beautiful blue. Von Schiller, dark brilliant blue. The above collection includes the most striking and positive colors, and are such as btloom well. Many others might be added to the list without materially increasing the value of the collection. The Cyclamen. About this flower but one opinion can be entertained,--that it is the most beautiful bulbous rooted plant ever introduced for the parlor or conservatory, and its beauty is fully equaled by its adaptation for the same purpose. We are fully justified in making this assertion, by the greatly increased interest taken in it by florists, amateurs, and the lovers of flowers in general. Ease of culture is an additional feature in their character and much in their favor. The difficulty in propagation alone has prevented their becoming a florists flower. The roots or bulbs of the Cyclamen being a solid corm, they will not divide successfully; consequently the only means of propagation is from seed, which must be gathered soon as ripe, slowly dried, and planted in a green house in heat; they must be kept constantly growing until they are in full flower. This part we should advise the amateur to leave to the p...
