A few thousand years ago the leaders of a small tribe of Jews in Israel came up with the idea of one God to replace the multiple gods that had been common in all societies up to that time. The three new religions that evolved from this one-God concept were Judaism, Christianity and Islam. This book reveals why these three religions came to be vehicles of violence on an incredible scale, and have failed in every respect to live up to the level of humane morality they preached. It also includes suggestions for eliminating the built-in cultural failings of the religions. It pinpoints the key cause of the ignorance, willful stupidity, irrationality and violence that has afflicted mankind since day one—in particular the failings that are built into the above three religions--the same cause that has resulted in the failure of virtually every aspect of American culture...education, the economy, politics and the moral level of society. The book should be required reading for teens, parents, teachers, businesspeople, politicians, news media pundits and creators of popular entertainment—from film-makers to trash song writers.
