Ready to stop spinning your wheels and make your work and personal life much more efficient and productive? The 80/20 Pareto principle is exactly what you need. This simple idea points out that, on average, only 20 percent of your efforts are responsible for 80 percent of your outcome. This principle is most commonly applied to business, wherein only 20 percent of your products are responsible for 80 percent of your revenue, but this principle can be applied to all aspects of your life. This book will explain the details of this principle, and teach you to examine your life to figure out how to identify the 20 percent of your actions that have the most impact, and how to chip away the remaining 80 percent of your efforts that are largely ineffective.
